Using Vehicle's Warning Flashers as a Warning Sign Yong Bai,2009 Rural two lane highways constitute a large percentage of the highway system in Kansas Preserving expending and enhancing these highways require the set up of a large number of one lane two way work zones where traffic safety has been a severe concern Aimed at reducing the work zone crashes attributable to inattentive driving the Kansas Department of Transportation KDOT initiated a research project to evaluate the effectiveness of a traffic warning sign that is assembled by using the emergency warning flashers of the vehicles in one lane two way work zones This warning sign was named as the Emergency Flasher Traffic Control Device EFTCD It works in the following fashion When a vehicle entering a one lane two way work zone where stopping is required for waiting to pass the work zone the driver is required to turn on its emergency warning flashers to warn the following vehicles of the work zone stopping condition The EFTCD is flexible and cost effective and may particularly benefit those work zones that are frequently moved due to the construction progress To accurately evaluate the effectiveness of the proposed EFTCD researchers conducted experiments in three one lane two way work zones in Kansas including two with a 55 mph speed limit and one with a 65 mph speed limit During experimental period researchers collected vehicle speed data with and without the EFTCD and surveyed drivers for their interpretation of this warning sign and recommendation on its potential implementation Analyses results showed that the EFTCD effectively reduced the mean speeds in work zones as well as the proportions of notably high speeds In addition survey results indicated that the EFTCD successfully captured the attention of most drivers when they approached the work zones A majority of drivers recommended the implementation of this warning sign in the work zones Therefore researchers concluded that the EFTCD was effective in one lane two way work zones Recommendations on future research were also presented based on the results of this study The outcomes of this research project benefit not only Kansas but also other States where rural two lane highways constitute a high percentage of their highway systems
