This selection of opinion essays and book reviews by Carol Tavris, written for The Los Angeles Times, The New York Times, Scientific American, and other publications, applies psychological research and principles of scientific and critical thinking to issues in the news. As readers work their way interactively through the essays, thinking through the author's position and their own on the various issues, they engage and strengthen their critical thinking skills, e.g., asking questions and wondering, defining terms, examining the evidence, analyzing assumptions and biases, one's own and those of others, avoiding emotional reasoning, not oversimplifying, considering other interpretations, and tolerating uncertainty. Focuses on important areas such as Science vs. Pseudoscience, Controversies in Child Development, The Politics and Science of Gender Research, Applying Psychology to Social Issues, and Mental Disorder and Treatment. Individual essay topics include: The Popularity of Predictions, Thinking Critically About Alternative Medicine, Thinking Critically About Mystical Messages, The Working Mother Debate, How Much Influence Do Mothers Have, How Much Influence Do Parents Have, How Critical Are the First Years of Life, The Interpretation of Differences, The Paradox of Gender, Biological Politics and the Study of Gender, Emotional Epidemics and Their Consequences, The Daycare Sex Abuse Scandals, Adolescent Violence, The Limits of Medication, and Thinking Critically About Psychotherapy. The Believing Brain Michael Shermer, 2011-05-24. A wonderfully lucid, accessible, and wide-ranging account of the boundary between justified and unjustified belief. Sam Harris, New York Times bestselling author of The Moral Landscape and The End of Faith. In this work synthesizing thirty years of research, psychologist, historian of science, and the world's best-known skeptic, Michael Shermer, upends the traditional thinking about how humans form beliefs about the world. Simply put, beliefs come first and explanations for beliefs follow The brain Shermer argues is a belief engine From sensory data flowing in through the senses the brain naturally begins to look for and find patterns and then infuses those patterns with meaning Our brains connect the dots of our world into meaningful patterns that explain why things happen and these patterns become beliefs Once beliefs are formed the brain begins to look for and find confirmatory evidence in support of those beliefs which accelerates the process of reinforcing them and round and round the process goes in a positive feedback loop of belief confirmation Shermer outlines the numerous cognitive tools our brains engage to reinforce our beliefs as truths Interlaced with his theory of belief Shermer provides countless real world examples of how this process operates from politics economics and religion to conspiracy theories the supernatural and the paranormal Ultimately he demonstrates why science is the best tool ever devised to determine whether or not a belief matches reality A must read for everyone who wonders why religious and political beliefs are so rigid and polarized or why the other side is always wrong but somehow doesn't see it Dr Leonard Mlodinow physicist and author of The Drunkard's Walk and The Grand Design with Stephen Hawking Readings in the Psychology of Women Beverly Birns, 1999 Compiles a variety of approaches among them scientific research reports theoretical discussions and phenomenological descriptions of women's lives Also includes an analysis of social cultural and historical influences on individual psychology and highlights women whose lives are under repress Intimacy with God Without Pretense Ben Kimmich, 2014-04-18 This book contains a call from God for us to have intimate fellowship with Him Too often we try to achieve in the flesh that which can only be accomplished by His Spirit for all that we are and all that we do should proceed from our relationship with Him Many will take time off of work and travel long distances to experience the love of God but few will take time off of work for solitary prayer with no other purpose than to hear His voice Psalms 27:4 Intimacy with God without Pretense addresses twenty three facets of Christian life all with the same focus to hear His voice know His will and feel His heart Revel for Psychology -- Combo Access Card Carole Wade, Carol Tavis, 2018-08-03 An overview of psychology that emphasizes critical thinking gender and culture REVEL™ for Psychology is designed to help students learn to think like psychologists and to understand why scientific and critical thinking is so important to the decisions they make in their own lives In keeping with their hallmark approach authors Carole Wade and Carol Tavis along with new contributor Alan Swinkels continue to emphasize critical thinking and to integrate coverage of gender and culture throughout the main narrative REVEL for the Twelfth Edition offers revised learning objectives that better guide students through the text as well as updated research references that reflect progress in the field and cutting edge discoveries REVEL is Pearson's newest way of delivering our respected content Fully digital and highly engaging REVEL replaces the textbook and gives students everything they need for the course Informed by extensive research on how people read think and learn REVEL is an interactive learning environment that enables students to read practice and study in one continuous experience for less than the cost of a traditional textbook NOTE This Revel Combo Access pack includes a Revel access code plus a loose
