Romance Dana Percec, 2012-03-15 Romance The History of a Genre is a collection of essays devoted to the highly popular and no less controversial genre of romance. A genre often disregarded for its stereotypical language, shallow characters and predictable plots, dismissed as women's fiction, accused of conventionalism, romance is a genre which, after ups and downs in its millennial history, is now holding a leading position on the international bookselling market. This achievement has also been possible with the endorsement of contemporary media and modern technology: cinema, television, the Internet, etc. Much has been written in both traditional and more recent literary theory about the origins and evolution of the early forms of romance, from the classical Antiquity through the Middle Ages and into the Renaissance and early modernity in Western Europe. A corpus which is becoming more and more substantial today is already available about the gendered status of contemporary romance, both in terms of the writing ethos and in terms of reader response, with theories coming from the combined areas of feminism, social sciences and psychoanalysis. The aim of the present volume is that of noting the fluid character of the genre, with the great number of subcategories, mixed and hybrid, bringing evidence to the polymorphous nature of contemporary popular culture. This book proposes, in four parts and twelve chapters, a fascinating and multifaceted journey into the history, substance and geography of romance. From its origins to the latest developments, from its subgenres to its features, from print to film, from television to Facebook, romance comes in various shapes and colours, which the reader can fully explore. The journey in the world of romance takes the reader from familiar corners to less familiar ones, from North America, Great Britain, Romania or Turkey to India or South Africa. The numerous approaches to romance generate diverse data, varied analytical frameworks and interesting, fresh and solidly grounded findings. The Mammoth Book of Best New Horror 18 Stephen Jones, 2011-08-04 The year's darkest tales of terror. years earlier doomed pioneers forge a path westward as a young mother discovers her true nature an alcoholic strikes a dangerous bargain with a gregarious stranger urban explorers delve into a ruined book depository finding more than they anticipated residents of a rural Wisconsin town defend against a legendary monster a woman wracked by survivor's guilt is haunted by the ghosts of a tragic crash a detective strives to solve the mystery of a dismembered girl an orphan returns to a wicked witch's candy house a group of smugglers find themselves buried to the necks in sand an unanticipated guest brings doom to a high class party a teacher attempts to lead his students to safety as the world comes to an end around them What frightens us what unnerves us What causes that delicious shiver of fear to travel the lengths of our spines It seems the answer changes every year Every year the bar is raised the screw is tightened Ellen Datlow knows what scares us the twenty one stories and poems included in this anthology were chosen from magazines webzines anthologies literary journals and single author collections to represent the best horror of the year Legendary editor Ellen Datlow Poe New Tales Inspired by Edgar Allan Poe winner of multiple Hugo Bram Stoker and World Fantasy awards joins Night Shade Books in presenting The Best Horror of the Year Volume One Genre, Reception, and Adaptation in the 'Twilight' Series Anne Morey, 2016-04-15

Much of the criticism on Stephenie Meyer's immensely popular Twilight novels has underrated or even disparaged the books while belittling the questionable taste of an audience that many believe is being inculcated with anti feminist values Avoiding a repetition of such reductive critiques of the series's purported shortcomings with respect to literary merit and political correctness this volume adopts a cultural studies framework to explore the range of scholarly concerns awakened by the Twilight novels and their filmic adaptations Contributors examine Twilight's debts to its predecessors in young adult vampire and romance literature the problems of cinematic adaptation issues in fan and critical reception in the United States and Korea and the relationship between the series and contemporary conceptualizations of feminism particularly girl culture Placing the series within a broad tradition of literary history reception studies and filmic adaptation the collection offers scholars the opportunity to engage with the books importance for studies of popular culture gender and young adult literature
