Post-9/11 Historical Fiction and Alternate History Fiction Pei-chen Liao, 2020-09-19 Drawing on theories of historiography memory and diaspora as well as from existing genre studies this book explores why contemporary writers are so fascinated with history Pei chen Liao considers how fiction contributes to the making and remaking of the transnational history of the U S by thinking beyond and before 9 11 investigating how the dynamics of memory as well as the emergent present influences readers reception of historical fiction and alternate history fiction and their interpretation of the past Set against the historical backdrop of WWII the Vietnam War and the War on Terror the novels under discussion tell Jewish Japanese white American African Muslim and Native Americans stories of trauma and survival As a means to transmit memories of past events these novels demonstrate how multidirectional memory can be not only collective but connective as exemplified by the echoes that post 9 11 readers hear between different histories of violence that the novels chronicle as well as between the past and the present

Imagining the Unimaginable Glyn Morgan, 2020-01-23 Imagining the Unimaginable examines popular fiction s treatment of the Holocaust in the dystopian and alternate history genres of speculative fiction analyzing the effectiveness of the genre s major works as a lens through which to view the most prominent historical trauma of the 20th century It surveys a range of British and American authors from science fiction pulp to Pulitzer Prize winners building on scholarship across disciplines including Holocaust studies trauma studies and science fiction studies The conventional discourse around the Holocaust is one of the unapproachable unknowable and the unimaginable The Holocaust has been compared to an earthquake another planet another universe a void It has been said to be beyond language or else have its own incomprehensible language beyond art and beyond thought The othering of the event has spurred the phenomenon of non realist Holocaust literature engaging with speculative fiction and its history of the uncanny the grotesque and the inhuman This book examines the most common forms of nonmimetic Holocaust fiction the dystopia and the alternate history while firmly positioning these forms within a broader pattern of non realist engagements with the Holocaust

In the Mirror of the Past Tomasz Ratajczak, Bogdan Trocha, 2014-09-26 These days we are ever more often confronted by overwhelming events Searching for a way to understand them we turn to mythic archetypes still present in our culture The authors of these essays pose questions about the reliability of the archetypes found in tradition history and scattered mythologemes The essays in this collection deal with the presence of mythic time in modern speculative fiction such as fantasy and alternate histories and discuss major mythologemes and their functions in popular literature and extra literary reality The authors show how mythopoeic fiction becomes a genetically modified mythic mirror in which we hope to see answers to vexing questions or just a reality superior to the ordinary one In the Mirror of the Past Of Fantasy and History is a collection of seven essays by American and Polish authors including Brian Attebery Terri Doughty and Marek Oziewicz with Mircea Eliade s concept of return from history to History as their underlying theme
