

My Personal Identity

A person's identity is shaped by many different aspects. Family, culture, friends, personal interests and surrounding environments are all factors that tend to help shape a person's identity.

Some factors may have more of an influence than others and some may not have any influence at all. As a person grows up in a family, they are influenced by many aspects of their life. Family and culture may influence a person's sense of responsibilities, ethics and morals, tastes in music, humor and sports, and many other aspects of life. Friends and surrounding environments may influence a person's taste in clothing, music, speech, and social activities.

Personal interests are what truly set individuals apart. An individual is not a puppet on the string of their puppet-master, nor a chess piece on their master's game board, individuals choose their own paths in life. They accomplish, or strive to accomplish, goals that they have set for themselves throughout their lifetime. Individuals are different from any other individual in the world because they live their own life rather than following a crowd of puppets.

A person's identity is defined by what shaped it in the first place, why they chose to be who they are, and what makes them different from everybody else in the world. I feel that I have developed most of my identity from my own dreams, fantasies, friends, and idols. I am who I am partly because of my family, but mostly because of who I want myself to be. I will never be exactly what I want to be because of my family upbringing, but I can provide myself with opportunities to live a somewhat similar life.

I would have loved to be brought up in a family that was into off-road racing, such as trucks, snowmobiles, and dirt bikes, and since I was not, all I can do is give my best efforts to make those things a part of my life and hopefully, some day, my own family's life. Society has had a limited impact on my lifestyle, mostly because I despise trends. The largest trends I despise are rap and hip-hop and the clothing, attitudes, and type of speech that that type of 'music' is breeding. I chose to steer away from that crowd, but it may also be because I live my life off of adrenaline.

My high on life is the energy I have when I get my blood pumping, my heart pounding, and my adrenaline raging. Most aspects of my individuality reflect that very well. I love hard, aggressive music, and also guns, but my passion in life is extreme sports, whether it be on a dirt bike, a bmx bike, a snowmobile, or a snowboard. I have a strong set of morals and ethics that I have partly adopted from my parents, but some are also partly my own.

My morals mostly consist of karma (being kind, caring, helpful, truthful, and considerate to others), not littering (especially in nature), respecting nature, keeping a clean and welcoming home, success that is measured with happiness and not possessions, and having strong f

Handbook of Research on Identity Theory in Marketing Americus Reed II, Mark Forehand, 2019-12-27 The Handbook of Research on Identity Theory in Marketing features cutting edge research that delves into the origins and consequences of identity loyalty and organizes these insights around five basic identity principles that span nearly every consumer marketing subdomain. This Handbook is a comprehensive and state of the art treatment of identity and marketing. An authoritative and practical guide for academics, brand managers, marketers, public policy advocates and even intellectually curious consumers.

Culture, Self-Identity, and Work Miriam Erez, P. Christopher Earley, 1993-08-12 A great deal of research has recently been completed on behavior and the organization of work, most of which has viewed it from an ethnocentric perspective. In this work Erez and Earley show how this is insufficient to develop a global theory of work behavior; it necessitates the inclusion of a cultural perspective. Solidly grounding their work in the fields of psychology, management and anthropology, the authors propose a new theoretical framework utilizing individual's self-concept as a means of linking cultural beliefs and social interaction to emergent work behavior. The book includes specific recommendations for structuring work environments and managerial processes to match cultural practices and enhance productivity in the workplace, making it an essential reference for scholars, students and professionals.

Social and Personal Identity Derek Layder, 2004-02-24 How can you understand yourself? Where do your views, attitudes and values come from and why do they change? This accessible and illuminating book provides a reliable guide to these questions. The book demonstrates that personal identity is formed around basic needs for security and self-esteem, and the personal desires that flow from them. Shows the role of the emotions in personal life. Explores the limits of approaches that deny the existence of individuals and personal experience. Demonstrates how we build on everyday problems and dilemmas of life to shape our moods, attitudes and feelings. Shrewd and compelling, the book will be of interest to anyone studying Social Psychology and Sociology.

Self, Identity, and Social Movements Sheldon Stryker, Timothy Joseph Owens, Robert W. White, 2000 An Analysis of "Blood In Blood Out". Personal Identity Construction in Gangs Karina Schmitt, 2015-07-27 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2014 in the subject Film Science, grade A. University of Southern Denmark course Spanish and Spanish American Studies language English abstract: Our social constructions, culture and history play an important role in our personal identity construction. In this analysis, these elements as well as the role that machismo plays for the male gang member in the 1993 cult movie Blood In Blood Out are analyzed to provide a profound understanding of one's motivation to join violent gangs. We go beyond the movie to find out what it means to be Chicano. Karina Schmitt has one of the most vibrant outside perspectives regarding the Chicano community I have ever seen. The only other I ever thought cared enough and expressed the realities of the Chicano community was Taylor Hackford, a very Anglo film director who chose to show the Chicano community using me as the star playing Miklo in Blood In Blood Out. Most Anglos don't understand enough about the language or the subtleties of the Chicano community to share or understand how to lend knowledge to the academic society or any other part of society without having grown up in this society of Chicanismos as I have But there is a certain care passion and loving embrace toward our Chicano society that Karina Schmitt embodies She loves our language our culture and she cares Damian Chapa Star playing Miklo in Blood In Blood Out 1993 Experimental Philosophy of Identity and the Self Kevin Tobia,2022-07-28 Exploring issues ranging from the metaphysical to the moral and legal a team of esteemed contributors bring together some of the most important and cutting edge findings in experimental philosophy of the self to address longstanding philosophical questions about personal identity such as What makes us today the same person as our childhood and future selves Can certain changes transform us into a different person Do our everyday moral practices presuppose a false account of who we are Chapters offer a survey of recent empirical work and foster dialogue between experimental and traditional philosophical approaches to identity covering the moral self dual character concepts true self transformative experience and the identity conditions collective entities With novel experiments and thought provoking applications to practical concerns including law immigration bioethics and politics this collection highlights the value and implications of empirical work on personal identity Journal of the American Society for Psychical Research American Society for Psychical Research,1914 List of members in v 1 6 12

The first part sets forth the attempts by John Locke, Anthony Quinton and H P Grice to analyze personal identity in terms of memory. The eleven other selections are largely critical of this approach and provide alternative perspectives. Part II contains classic contributions by Joseph Butler, Thomas Reid and Sydney S Shoemaker and a new paper by John Perry. Personal Identity, Memory and the Problem of Circularity in which he defends some of the central features of the Locke/Grice/Quinton approach. Part III contains three sections from David Hume's Treatise of Human Nature. Our idea of Identity Of Personal Identity and an appendix which the editor has entitled Second Thoughts. In the fourth part of the volume, Bernard Williams discusses The Self and the Future and Derek Parfit contributes his view of Personal Identity. A recurring theme throughout the work is the possibility of body transfer of a single person having at different times different bodies. In the final section of the volume Brian Bisection and the Unity of Consciousness Thomas Nagel examines the philosophical implications of recent scientific research on split brain patients he discusses the possibility entertained by some researchers that such cases involve two persons simultaneously inhabiting a single body. In his long introduction to this unique anthology on a topic of prime interest to the philosophical community Mr Perry scrutinizes the differing approaches and vocabularies of the various authors.
