scholars from a variety of international contexts present new perspectives on significant questions and issues underpinning women's work in 21st century British theatre by engaging with contemporary debates from theatre and performance studies and cultural theory. A concluding roundtable with women theatre practitioners addresses key questions pertaining to their work including working conditions, the politics of funding and of ageing, disability and care. With a foreword by the Guardian's chief theatre critic Arifa Akbar and featuring research tools such as introductions to sections, a detailed list of sources and an annotated bibliography, this is an authoritative study for anyone with a keen research interest in the distinct contribution of women to contemporary British theatre and performance.

Nomadic Theatre Liesbeth Groot Nibbelink, 2019-04-18

Fluid stages, morphing theatre spaces, ambulant spectators and occasionally disappearing performers: these are some of the key ingredients of nomadic theatre. They are also theatre's response to life in the 21st century, which is increasingly marked by the mobility of people, information technologies and services. While examining how contemporary theatre exposes and queries this mobile turn in society, Liesbeth Groot Nibbelink introduces the concept of nomadic theatre as a vital tool for analyzing how movement and mobility affect and implicate the theatre, how this makes way for local operations and lived spaces and how physical movements are stepping stones for theorizing mobility at large. This book focuses on ambulatory performances and performative installations, asking how they stage movement and in turn mobilize the stage. By analyzing the work of leading European artists such as Rimini Protokoll, Dries Verhoeven, Ontroerend Goed and Signa, Nomadic Theatre demonstrates that mobile performances radically rethink the conditions of the stage and alter our understanding of spectatorship. Nomadic Theatre instigates connections across disciplinary fields and feeds dramaturgical analysis with insights derived from media theory, urban philosophy, cartography, architecture and game studies. It illustrates how theatre as a material form of thought creatively and critically engages with mobile existence both on the stage and in society.

Brutal Beauty Jisha Menon, 2021-10-15

Brutal Beauty: Aesthetics and Aspiration in Urban India follows a postcolonial city as it transforms into a bustling global metropolis after the liberalization of the Indian economy. Taking the once idyllic garden city of Bangalore in southern India as its point of departure, the book explores how artists across India and beyond foreground neoliberalism as a structure of feeling permeating aesthetics, selfhood and everyday life. Jisha Menon conveys the affective life of the city through multiple aesthetic projects that express a range of urban feelings, including aspiration, panic and obsolescence. As developers and policymakers remodel the city through tumultuous construction projects, urban beautification, privatization and other templated features of world-class cities, urban citizens are also changing, transformed by nostalgia, narcissism, shame and the spaces where they dwell and work. Sketching out scenes of urban aspiration and its dark underbelly, Menon delineates the creative and destructive potential of India's lurch into contemporary capitalism, uncovering the interconnectedness of local and global power structures as well as art's capacity to absorb and critique liberalization's discontents. She argues that neoliberalism isn't just an economic, social and political phenomenon.
